

Simplifying the professional commute

Let's go!

Nick Hoppesch | Brad Roth | Diana Chen

Professional commuters traveling to their work place

Ages 25-50

From suburbs into city

Mode of Transportation: car or carpool, train, subway, bus

Tech savvy: smart phones, iPads, e-readers, laptops

34 year old electrical engineer Lives in the suburbs of Chicago Takes public transportation

30 year old lawyer Lives in San Francisco Drives one hour to Palo Alto

seamless tech savy timely conscientious productive fast-paced confident professional passive urban

Two dominant concerns arose from our research:

Is there traffic? What is the best way to get there?

- "I'm afraid of getting completely stuck in an accident."
- "Delayed or cancelled routes, and how soon the next train is coming [are important] so I know if I need to find an alternate route..."

I want to let people know when I am going to be late.

- "If you are going to be late, you just try to let people know who may be affected."
- "Since [my wife] has to pick me up and I don't want her to have to sit there and wait."

Smart

Location- aware

Accurate

Uses historical GPS data to improve arrival times

Seamless

Calendar, e-mail, phone and GPS integration

Simple

• Easy and safe to use while driving

Calendar And Contact Integration

II Bell		0 PM		0 🗖
Back	Hom	e Setu	0
Address				1
Street
City
State		Zip C	ode
When do yo	ou want to	leave h	ome?
08	30	AM
When do yo	ou want to	o return h	iome?
05	30	РМ
Primary C	ontact	•
Name

		and a strength of the second
Back	4:20 PM	0 🗖
Васк	Account Sy	nc
Google
iCal		ON
Outlook		OFF
Add Acco	unt	•

GPS automatically turns on when leaving for work

Alerts and reroutes when there is traffic

Simple interaction to notify others

Logging the trip improves accuracy

No need to be late, Let's Go!